

Senate Ups Funds For European Aid By Billion Dollars

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, June 16—The senate's $6,125,710,228 global aid bill headed today for a stormy reception in the economy-minced house which last week voted many millions less.

The senate okayed the unprecedented sum by a 60 to 9 vote shortly after last midnight. If rejected by the house—as it undoubtedly will be—the bill will be sent to a joint conference committee for agreement on some middle ground before Saturday adjournment.

Add Billion

The senate added billion over a billion dollars to the house-approved bill. It did this chiefly by restoring the world-wide assistance program to the 15 months expiration basis instead of the 15 months demanded by the house. In actual cash, the senate bill upped the amount by only $145,000,000 and was still $408,000,000 short of the amount President Truman asked.

Before its vote on the foreign spending bill, the senate took still another step bearing importantly on American foreign policy. By a voice vote it approved a $5,886,755,250 appropriation for the Navy starting July 1. This measure also goes back to the house for action on a senate boost of more than $125,000,000.

Earlier the senate also had disposed of a $43,422,061 government corporations bill which carried, among other things, a $30,972,061 appropriation for the Tennessee Valley Authority, including a hotly debated $4,000,000 item to start building a TVA steam plant to generate electricity.

The gigantic foreign aid bill passed through the senate with comparatively little debate.

The measure earlier had passed its major test when the chamber voted, 64 to 15, to restore the 12-

STASSEN SUPPORT DUE VANDENBERG

WASHINGTON, June 16—Reports came out of the Harold E. Stassen camp today that if the Minnesota falls to win the Republican presidential nomination he might lead a convention move to draft Senator Arthur Vandenberg.

Stassen's friends here contend the last week has shown an upturn in the former governor's political standing from the low point reached after his defeat by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey in the May 21 Oregon primary.

These supporters claim Stassen still has a good chance to get the nomination. Stassen has predicted his own victory on the ninth ballot of the party convention opening Monday in Philadelphia.

That's five more than he said it would take him to win when he was riding to success in the April 13 Nebraska primary.

While he stuck to his prediction of a Stassen victory, a close associate told a reporter that if the drive should fail for any reason, he would expect Stassen to get behind the movement for Vandenberg.

Stassen publicly has praised Vandenberg's stand on foreign policy issues.

On the other hand, he has clashed openly with Dewey and Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio.

4 INJURED WHEN AUTO OVERTURNS

Six Others Unhurt In Accident Last Night On Stewart Road

Four teen-age Salem girls were injured at 10:45 p. m. Tuesday when the car in which they were riding overturned at the intersection of Route 9 and the Stewart road.

The car, which the state patrol said contained ten persons was driven by Thomas Zimmerman, 17, of 1931 E. State st.

Injured were:

Shirley Mason, 17, of 492 Jennings ave., lacerations and bruises.

Barbara Burson, 16, of 196 W. Eighth st., lacerations and bruises.

Roseanne Loutzenhiser, 17, of 205 S. Howard ave., cuts on face and bruises.

Patricia Thompson, 16, of 450 N. Ellsworth ave., bruises and twisted back.

The state highway patrol said Zimmerman applied his brakes as he approached Route 9 on the Stewart road. The car skidded on loose gravel, hit the ditch, rolled over and then rolled back into a wheat field. The vehicle was badly damaged.

The injured were taken to Salem City hospital.

ARABS SAY "NO" TO OPENING CITY

Refuse Bernadotte's Idea Of Declaring Palestine City Open In Truce

CAIRO, June 16—The Arabs today rejected a proposal of the United Nations mediator to declare Jerusalem an open city.

Pawel Mulki Pasha, foreign minister of Trans-Jordan, told newsmen the Arab league replied to Count Folke Bernadotte that if Jerusalem was declared an open city, Arab troops would be asked to evacuate positions they conquered there last month. He said this would be in contradiction of the cease fire terms.

An Arab league source also reported the league's political committee rejected an invitation to sit at a conference table with the Jews in negotiations for a permanent Palestine peace.

The Arab held the old city of Jerusalem, a mile-square block in the heart of the Shrine city, when the four-week truce became effective last Friday. The Jews held most of the bigger modern city. The Arabs have accused the Jews in the past of ruling out the possibility of an open city by violating the previous Jerusalem truce.

Abdel Rahman Azzam Pasha, secretary general of the Arab league, repeated the Arab position that the Arab states will listen to no proposal for peace which is based on a Jewish state or partition. Bernadotte talked with Azzam Pasha and with the premiers of Lebanon and Trans-Jordan.

One informant said Bernadotte gave the Arab committee an oral proposal last night, a few hours after the mediator arrived from his Rhodes Island peace headquarters. Bernadotte promised written proposals "very soon."

Egypt accused the Jews of inching forward their lines since the truce began and threatened to use force unless the front is restored. The Jews countered with accusations of their own.

Salem Boy Among 4 Winners Of Mullins Scholarships

Four young men representing high schools in Salem, East Palestine, Hubbard and Cortland, today were named the 1948 winners of the four $1,000 scholarships offered annually by the Mullins Manufacturing Corporation.

They are Danny S. Crawford, son of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Crawford of Salem; Charles L. Crowl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd L. Crowl of East Palestine; Douglas M. Dechert, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Dechert of R. D. 3, Cortland, and Elmer T. Sabo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sabo of Hubbard.

The competition is limited to young men in Columbiana and Trumbull counties, where Mullins operates plants. Thirty-four students had the necessary scholastic records to enter the competition this year. The winners will study at the University of Cincinnati. This will bring to 12 the number of high school graduates from the two counties now studying under the Mullins plan.

Crawford is the first son of a Mullins employee to win the scholarship. The elder Crawford has been an electrician in the company's Salem plant for 14 years. Frank Sabo, a brother of the winner from Hubbard, has been employed in the Salem plant die shop for 12 years.

The course requires five years' study, leading to an engineering degree. Under the work-study plan, after the first year's study, the winners will divide their time between classroom and work in Mullins plants.

NEW CASTLE, N. H., June 16—Sen. Robert A. Taft's leading supporter in his bid for the Republican presidential nomination said today he didn't think the Ohio senator would accept the vice presidential spot on the GOP ticket—even if offered him.

Gov. Thomas J. Herbert (R-Ohio) said that a majority of the Ohio delegation had not given any thought to anything but top position for Taft.

"I don't think Sen. Taft would accept anything else," Herbert said. "But I have not talked with him about it. As far as our delegation has gone it's just Taft."

Two of the other three announced Republican candidates have indicated they are not interested in the vice-presidential nomination. They are Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York and Gov. Earl Warren of California.

Former Governor Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota has answered questions on the subject with the statement: "I'm running for president."

Amendments Rejected

Among other amendments which Andrews said he thought would be rejected was one by Rep. Gavin (R-Pa.) to allow the armed services to enlist up to 100,000 aliens for three-year terms.

The senate-passed bill contains a similar proposal. But the number of aliens was put at 25,000 and their terms at five years.

The Shafter plan would hold off registration, as well as inductions until next January 31. The law would go into operation then only if voluntary enlistments had not produced enough men.

In the meantime, the services would have to conduct an intensive recruiting campaign. These would be major inducements:

1. Increasing the pay for all enlisted men 25 per cent.

2. Lowering the passing grade of the Army's aptitude test from 80 to 70 points.

3. Accepting two-year enlistments with the same privileges as enlistments for longer terms.

The bill before the house would hold up inducements for 75 days and then permit them only if the President formally ordered a start.

The bill would require men from 18 through 30 to register. Those from 19 through 25 could be drafted for two years. Most veterans, and members of reserve units, the National Guard and Air National Guard, would be exempt.

The senate passed its similar bill last week. It would call for registration from 18 through 25, and inductions from 19 through 25.

Expensive Game of Golf

COLUMBUS, June 16—A game of golf cost Morton J. Heldman of Cincinnati $6,500, all because he didn't yell "fore."

The ball driven by Heldman hit his caddy, 12-year-old Teddy Gardner, in the head from a distance of 15 feet.

A common pleas court jury awarded the caddy $10,000 damages but the trial judge considered this excessive and reduced the amount to $6,500.

The appellate court affirmed this award and the Supreme court today refused to consider Heldman's appeal.

Operators, Lewis Break Negotiations

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, June 16—Towering "Cy" Ching, the government's conciliation chief, moved in fast today in a bid to keep John L. Lewis and the soft coal operators from getting too mad to talk contract terms.

The operators broke off negotiations yesterday, saying the session were "fruitless" because of Lewis' strings on bargaining for a new wage-welfare fund pact. The present one expires June 30.

Ching called both sides to a meeting with him tomorrow morning. And Lewis ordered his own advisers to assemble one week later for what may be a strike strategy huddle.

The Southern Coal Producers association, which won a court order to force Lewis to include its representative in the industry-wide meetings, disagreed with the walk-out action of the other operators.

But for the moment, at least, the association was unable to do anything about it. Lewis said Joseph E. Moody, the association's president, "walked out, too, leaving us sitting there."

Moody and his board of directors scheduled a meeting this morning. The session took on new importance because of yesterday's rapid-fire developments.

Can Settle With SCPA

The SCPA board could decide to invite Lewis to meet separately and make a contract. The United Mine Workers chief expressed the opinion at a news conference that two leading members of the southern group could negotiate an agreement if they wanted to because of their position in the industry. He named J. D. Francis, head of Island Creek Coal Co., and O. L. Alexander, president of the Pocahontas Fuel Co.

The association represents southern companies and individual mines which produce one third of the nation's bituminous coal.

Ching, in asking all parties to confer with him tomorrow, said he had been informed they had reached an "impasse" in their own effort at making a contract.

Charles O'Neill, spokesman for the bituminous coal operators, said Lewis insisted on "activation" of the 1947 welfare and retirement fund, now over $40,000,000, as a "condition precedent to discussion of a new wage agreement."

O'Neill said that the operators concluded "that further meetings may mislead the public and governmental agencies by creating the impression that an agreement may be effected by this conference."

Lewis, meeting reporters later, said the mine workers will continue to "refuse to abandon their loved ones" who were widowed or in distress and in need of benefits authorized by the 1947 contract.

Lewis called his 200-man policy committee to Washington Thursday, June 24—two days before the start of an industry-wide miners' vacation which continues through July 5.

He said he will ask the committee for "instructions concerning any future plans."

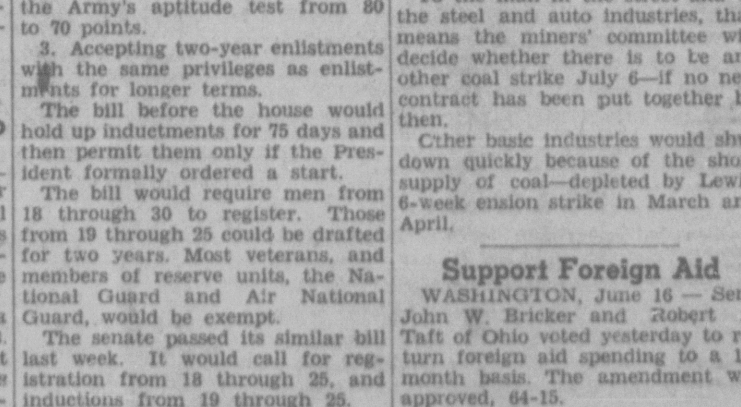

To the man in the street and to a steel and auto industries, that means the miners' committee will decide whether there is to be another coal strike July 6—if no new contract has been put together by then.

Other basic industries would shut down quickly because of the short supply of coal—depleted by Lewis' 6-week ension strike in March and April.

Synthetic Foods

Wood is becoming one of the great raw materials. It provides food, clothing and shelter as well as newsprint, alcohol, plastics, fertilizer and other items. In future years wood's role as a food, particularly for livestock, is likely to increase, reports industrial & engineering chemistry.

Despite World War II, the world population is 200,000,000 more than in 1940, yet today's food supply is only 93 percent of 1940's. The publication notes that "largely because of the grains demand, the U. S. cattle population fell 3,000,000 last year to 67,000,000." It believes the decline can be halted by wider use of sawdust preparation as a grain substitute.

As the population grows, the world will rely more and more on the chemist's retort. The versatile soybean has come into its own as organic chemists have found many uses for it in food and manufacturing. In South Africa, Britain is developing vast peanut plantations to utilize the methods Carver and others perfected in processing the nut for oil and a score of other uses. Even today's nickel candy bar wrapper lists ingredients the candy maker never heard of two decades ago.

A Loose End

Thirty-one member nations of the world health organization will meet June 24 in Geneva. Whether the United States will be the 32nd is still in doubt. Two months ago the house rules committee said membership in the organization was a dead issue and that it didn't propose to have the United States "running around giving injections all over the world." This attitude changed as eminent medical authorities made their opinions known. Early this month the house followed the senate in passing a resolution approving membership in the W. H. O. But it isn't law because house and senate must reconcile differences in their resolutions and the President must sign the bill. As the matter stands now, it's one of the many loose ends waiting to be gathered up in the last-minute rush on Capitol Hill.

Hurry Up and Say No

Latest major strike threat to fold up in the face of federal court orders obtained by U. S. attorneys is that of maritime workers. The court orders have been followed, of course, by loud and angry blasts from the union chiefs involved. But in the light of railroad and coal strikes averted by court orders, it's beginning to look as if the blasts may be only a formality.

The court orders keep negotiations open until every possibility of settlement has been tried. They protect the public and members of unions in certain basic industries from the whims and caprices of union leaders who might prefer to strike first and talk afterward.

The orders are not issued on request of employers. They must be requested by the United States, in behalf of all the people of the United States, an important distinction never mentioned by union chiefs, who are trying to make it appear that the Taft-Hartley act has turned back the clock to the time when the injunction was an anti-union weapon.

The meanest trick that could be played on unionists who issue loud and angry blast whenever an injunction is granted to delay a strike would be to let them go through with every strike they threaten to call. What some of them obviously are depending on is for the government to hurry up and say no, which gives them a chance to save their skins while claiming that the Taft-Hartley act is robbing labor unions of the right to strike.

It's A Disease

A disgraced spokesman for the Reserve Officers association now holding its annual convention in Denver says "Pentagon lethargy" is to blame for the army's failure to develop a reserve training program, the phrase is an apt one — Pentagon lethargy.

It brings to mind the wartime stories of lost souls wandering in that vast castle dedicated to paper word, of guides assigned to awed visitors, of cases of malnutrition brought on by the remoteness of lunchrooms. There was no lethargy in the Pentagon then, just frustration.

There may be no lethargy now. Perhaps it's still frustration — sheer unwillingness to undertake the impossible. The Pentagon is as vast as ever but less heavily populated. A brass-bound traveler on his way to see someone about a reserve training program might trudge for days on end without seeing a friendly face—possibly without seeing any face but his own in a washroom mirror as he bedded down for another night, alone in space. It would be tempting to give up, throw a note in a bottle out the window and await rescue, resolved never to mention a reserve training program again.

Diluted Dollars

In granting an 8 percent wage increase, General Electric falls into line for the "third round." But it points out that it does so reluctantly, for the idea of a "national wage pattern" can be dangerous for the nation.

That wage pattern idea makes every wage earner, together with his past savings and future income, subject to the whims or even the mistake of some individual in power whose action might be dictated by the circumstances of a single case.

For instance, if an 8 percent wage increase became a national pattern, it would result in an 8 percent dilution in the value of each dollar and of each existing obligation payable in a fixed dollar.

A nationwide 8 percent increase would wipe out $33,000,000,000 of value for the holders of $100,000,000,000 worth of insurance, for the holders of $330,000,000,000 of government securities and for the holders of $100,000,000 of bank savings. That's $330,000,000,000.

would represent the total national income for three months.

Dilution of dollars by wage increase patterns is a real menace. It dissipates savings. It halts all efforts to reduce prices, such as those made last January by General Electric. It puts bigger figures on paychecks but, as the dilution increases, the figures stand for progressively less.

A STARTLING new discovery, a stroke of genius or scientific invention or finding, might have power to change entirely the tides of destiny, although such might demand the abrupt termination of the status quo and a sensational turning of the contacts, affairs and interests into new fields. The sudden spading-up could be complete and far-reaching, if not revolutionary. Strange techniques, executed with firm and persistent hand, with aggressive, strenuous, even dramatic potency, should be sustained by sound thinking and workable creative force. The element of romance should not be lacking, with probable adventure in fresh pastures.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, may prepare themselves for a spectacular intervention of fate, in which something unusual, startling and of practical worth should be demonstrated with much practical ingenuity and application. Constructive endeavors in putting over unique skills or curious discoveries could prove revolutionary and far-reaching in their final denouement. Brilliant ideas, inaugurated with determination and acumen, might spell substantial and long-range security and gratification. Unpredictable developments may bring radical spading-up, with romance and adventure capitalized.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Treating Cancer In Children

BY HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

NEARLY everyone thinks of cancer as a disease of the middle-aged or elderly. Unfortunately, it also occurs in children, and when it does, the only means of saving the child's life lies in early recognition and removal of the tumor growth.

The same thing of course, is true in adults but in children, early recognition is even more important because in youngsters cancer runs a wildfire course.

Early in the disorder — much earlier than is the case with most adults — cells from the cancer are carried to other parts of the body, particularly the lungs.

Diagnosis Easier
Child victims of cancer have this advantage — in them diagnosis is likely to be easier than in the adult because in nearly all cases the tumor is easily seen or felt.

Even so, however, cancer still kills as many children under 15 each year as any one of the following diseases — measles, scarlet fever, tuberculosis, and whooping cough. The cancer may be present at birth, or even before the child is born.

The usual locations of such tumors are the eyes, nervous system, kidneys, the adrenal glands located just above the kidneys, the bones, and blood-forming tissues.

Tumors of the central nervous system, or those affecting the lymph glands, are often seen in children from four to twelve years of age.

Cancer of the eye may cause the pupil of one eye to be enlarged. Tumors which affect the throat may cause blocking of the air passages.

Enlarged glands in the neck are another sign of such growths.

Cancers of the bones cause swelling, with tenderness and interference with movements. Tumors of the kidney are generally detected by feeling the mass.

Probably from 10 to 15 per cent of all cases of Hodgkins disease — a first cousin of cancer — occur during childhood. Here early diagnosis is difficult, but it can be made if one of the enlarged lymph glands so characteristic of this disorder is removed and examined under the microscope.

As with the adult, X-ray examination of the more typical forms of cancer.

Examination of the blood to determine the amount of lime and phosphorus present, is helpful, together with X-ray examination, in the detection of bone cancers.

Of course, whenever operation is performed to remove a tumor, definite diagnosis can be made by examining some of the tumor tissue under the microscope.

Diagnosis may also be accurately established by means of aspirating a minute piece of the tumor, using a needle and syringe. This material can then be properly stained and examined under the microscope.

Of course there is a great deal of need for further study of cancer in order to determine causes and more satisfactory methods of treatment.

Until such time as newer methods are developed, early diagnosis and prompt removal seems to be the most effective method of treatment available, though X-ray and radium treatments are useful in some cases.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

N. N.: How can a person tell if he has tuberculosis of the throat?

Answer: Tuberculosis of the larynx or voice-box would cause continued hoarseness. Other symptoms of tuberculosis, such as loss of weight and strength, are usually present.

Of course, if tuberculosis is suspected, a thorough examination by a physician should be carried out at once.

Letters to Dr. Bundesen should be addressed in care of 335 E. 45th St., New York City.

Sketch of a Possible White House Hostess

Martha Bowers Taft

THINGS WOULD HUM—In the White House—if Bob and Martha Taft got elected. . . . Ambitious, witty, front-page Martha Taft has a mind of her own and will speak it wherever she may find herself, including 1600 Pennsylvania avenue. . . . She would not hesitate to break a precedent or two. . . . An old hand at operating through Washington tradition, protocol, and delicate situations, she would be as much "at home" in the White House as her husband who used to live there when his pappy, William Howard Taft, was president. . . . Politics and Washington were nothing new to Martha Taft even before she met Robert, a Yale classmate of her brother. . . . Her father was Judge Lloyd Bowers and solicitor general during the Taft regime.

Mrs. Robert A. Taft

Born in Winona, Minn., in 1899, she attended Rosemary school in Greenwich, Conn., and later studied at the Sorbonne in France. . . . She might have been a teacher of French but instead she got married. . . . For 34 years the Tafts made their home on a 65-acre farm on Indian Hill, near Cincinnati. . . . Three of their four sons (William, Robert, Lloyd, Horace), are married. The youngest, Horace, is not. . . . A crusading clubwoman, Martha Taft helped organize the National League of Women Voters and later was national treasurer. . . . Served on first National Girl Scout board in Washington. . . . As a campaigner, Martha adds the punch to Taft's dry and solemn approach. . . . Her husband might never have gone to the Senate in 1928 if she had not so vigorously campaigned for him. . . . Speech after speech took her into 85 counties to organize GOP women. . . . Martha Taft did as well a Cleveland paper headlined: "Bob and Martha Taft Elected to the Senate." . . . Her admiration of her husband is sincere. . . . and she tells what "Bob says" with so much verve and wit the point goes over better than when he makes it. . . . The only potential GOP First Lady not to fall in with the GOP strategy that any successor to Eleanor Roosevelt must demonstrate (for vote-getting purposes) that woman's place is in the home. . . . Not the type to wear fluffy hats, she does anyway. . . . Takes along her knitting everywhere, even to embassy parties. . . . Considered a connoisseur of etchings and engravings, she's at her best when talking with a kindred soul about art. . . . Martha Taft makes firm friends and enemies.

88 Marriage Licenses June Total Thus Far

LISBON, June 16—June brides are off to a good start, according to records in the probate court which show 88 marriage licenses issued in the first 15 days of the month, surpassing the same period last year when 84 couples were licensed.

June licenses so far are just 12 under the total issued in May when 100 licenses were granted, and bids fair to surpass June's record last year when 189 couples were licensed to marry.

Plan Largest Soil Show In Ohio River Valley

Members of the Ohio Valley Second Frontier advisory board meet at Author Louis Bromfield's farm at Mansfield to make plans for the largest soil conservation demonstration ever attempted in the U. S. The show will be held Sept. 23-24 on 312 acres of Ohio river valley soil, on a farm on U. S. Route 35, between Jackson and Gallipolis. In the photo are (from left) Bromfield, R. M. Ramsey, president of the Federal Reserve bank of Cleveland; H. C. Immigration: Stumbling Block to Truce

Perhaps the chief stumbling block facing Count Folke Bernadotte of Sweden, the UN's mediator in Palestine, is Jewish immigration into the new state of Israel. This scene on board an immigration ship taking refugees, detained by the British, from Cyprus to Palestine, is typical of the cramped quarters aboard the vessels. Proposed solution to the problem is to allow immigration, but have the Truce Commission supervise it and not permit immigrants to enter the Israeli army.

Comrade Gromyko Does Himself Well---In the U. S. A.

Andrei A. Gromyko, Russia's deputy foreign minister, and his family will occupy this 26-room mansion on the Richard Reynolds, Sr., estate at Glen Cove, N. Y., for the summer. Situated on Long Island's swanky "Gold Coast," the house stands amid five acres of grounds which include a private bathing beach on Long Island Sound. Relieved as chief Soviet delegate to the UN, Gromyko will return to Russia next fall.

IRON CURTAIN DRAWN SHUT AGAIN

RUSSIAN-ALLIED trouble flares again in occupied Germany, with the Russians sealing the entire border between their zone and the Anglo-American zone against passage by Germans. Traffic was halted at Hof (1) as the Soviets demanded "urgency certificates" signed by a Soviet officer not below colonel rank. At the Marienborn checkpoint (2) entering the British zone hundreds of families were ordered off trains for lack of "properly signed" passes. Traffic at both ends of the busy route from Berlin (3) to Helmstedt was halted, including coal shipments for Germans in Berlin. Shaded area indicates extent of the Iron Curtain. (International)

Auto Industry Idle Now, But Big Production Coming

By DAVID J. WILKIE
Associated Press Automotive Editor
DETROIT, June 16—Much auto production capacity is idle this week but a new output record probably is just around the corner. This is the conviction of many industry analysts. They see July 1 inaugurating a new high level of car and truck assemblies. Best bet right now appears to be that 1,000,000 cars and trucks will be built between July 1 and Aug. 30.

Barring another coal mine tie-up or other development that production level could be maintained through September and into October.

Most industry sources seem agreed a lot of new models, originally planned for production in October will not reach the assembly lines until after the first of next year. This will help substantially in increasing the 1948 volume.

Anniversary In Two Weeks
Two weeks hence the industry will complete three years of postwar operations. In those three years it will have built close to 7,500,000 passenger cars. That just about matches normal replacement demand of the war years. It probably means that the estimated 5,000,000 backlog of unfilled orders is a conservative figure.

The actual number of unfilled orders on hand means little to the dealers; most of them are sold out for a year and more ahead, and many are refusing new orders. If they would book all the orders offered the backlog—including a lot of duplications—would come close to 7,500,000.

The size of the filled order bank is of concern to the average individual seeking a new car. For the more popular models few deliveries are being promised within a year; in most instances would-be buyers are told the wait may be as long as 18 months.

The new 1949 model car to be introduced probably will come out in September. Until quite recently it has been assumed Nash would be first out after Ford. Now the suggestion is being heard that Chevrolet may be next. Chevrolet's probable design and styling is of more than ordinary interest right now because of the radical changes Ford made in its newest postwar models.

Whatever Chevrolet may be planning it is being more carefully guarded than ever before in industry history.

Chevie Can Rest
So far as Chevrolet's first place in production and sales are concerned it probably could afford a month's shutdown for model change-over without endangering that leadership.

Ford lost a lot of production during its model switch-over and probably will not reach postwar normal levels until mid-July. So far this year Ford has produced about 165,000 Ford cars; Chevrolet over the same period has turned out 355,000.

Probably one of the best jobs of pulling out of a production jam is being done by Packard. One of the companies hardest hit by steel shortages, Packard made only 55,477 cars last year. So far this year it has made almost 40,000. At present cars are rolling from the Packard assembly lines here at the rate of 65 an hour.

If the planning of its president and general manager, George T. Christopher, is realized, Packard stands a good chance of topping the 100,000 unit level this year, for the second time in its 50-year history.

Packard's best production year was 1937 when 109,518 cars were built.

Smoke-Filled Rooms A Myth - Hallahan

PHILADELPHIA, June 16—"The myth that Republican presidential nominations are decided in a smoke filled room will be buried here next week," Chairman Walter S. Hallahan told members of the GOP arrangements committee today.

"We all know that smear has been invented, nourished and spread by willful propagandists with New Deal axes to grind," he told the committee as it met to complete plans for the largest convention in the party's history.

Meanwhile, the convention contest committee faced six delegate disputes, two of them involving Negro recognition. The platform committee prepared to start discussions tomorrow.

Era B. Whittle of Coeur D'Alene Idaho, chairman of the contest committee, said at least three of the delegate disputes—Georgia, South Carolina and Alaska—are "serious contests."

Whittle said there were also controversies on representation from Maryland, Mississippi and the District of Columbia.

After his 40-member committee considers the various disputes today, he'll send its recommendations to entire national committee tomorrow morning. The national committee sits as a jury in the contests.

SIDEWALKS

and City Solicitor Henry L. Reese are going to check the possibilities of moving the buildings. It may be that some of the buildings, including garages on the lots, can be salvaged.

Wilson reported that work is nearing completion on the paving of Rose ave., the laying of a water line on W. Fourth st., and cleaning out sewer sections throughout the city.

In a lengthy discussion of the city dump, about which Councilman Carl Abe had received a number of complaints, Wilson brought out the need for regular dumping hours daily and restrictions on Sundays and holidays.

Wilson said the people who operate the dump are not paid outright by the city, but actually secure income from salvaging materials. Consequently, he said, regulation of the dumping is necessary. He said it is impossible to have personnel at the place at all times.

Dumping is permitted from 7 a. m. until 7 p. m. on weekdays and not at all on Sundays or holidays. Council asked Wilson to notify the public of these hours and instruct the supervisor at the dump to be more courteous in treatment of the public.

Abe had reported the operator defying people, in one case with a gun under his arm, to dump there after hours.

In a series of minor actions, council: PASSED a resolution authorizing legislation to vacate and close two alleys for which all property owners had not signed the requesting petition. One runs east and west, between E. State st. and E. Pershing st., abutting on S. Union ave. on the west and the properties west of Park drive on the east and the other is located between Ninth and Tenth streets, running west off

N. Howard ave. to the first alley west of Howard.
REFERRED to the planning commission a request for vacation of an alley running east and west between Third and Fourth streets, west from Jennings ave. to Stewart ave.
AUTHORIZED the removal of a tree in the center of an alley north of Perry st.
AGREED to conduct a survey to prepare relief for a water drainage condition at S. Lundy ave. near the Salem China Co. property, which is causing damage to properties.

HEARD and accepted a report from Safety Committee George Chappell which said correction of clear vision interferences at cross sections in the city could be best made by action by the administration and police department under existing ordinances. The committee felt no further action by council was needed.
HEARD the first reading of an ordinance transferring $2,000 from the general fund to the sewer repairs fund.

MACKENZIE'S Column

BY RELMAN MORIN
(For Dewitt Mackenzie)

SCHOLARLY SIR Oliver Franks, the new British ambassador, is hardly a man to be envied.

He takes up his duties in Washington at a time when the relations between Britain and this country are at a very low point, indeed. The over-all community of interest remains. So does much of the mutual admiration and genuine friendship between the two people that was engendered by close contact during the war.

But the British already are irritated, seriously, with our Palestine "policy." That is a fact. It exists now.

In the near future, American administrators are likely to be just as irritated with the British over events that develop from the actual operations of the Marshall plan.

SO THE NEW British envoy has one big, tough, hairy-chested problem on his desk today, and he probably will have an even bigger and tougher one confronting him tomorrow.

Let's examine them.

He first is easy to understand. Britain has been in the Middle East for well over a century. At the apex of her strength, she was the only great force in the Arab world. She maintained peace and order, sometimes at the expenditure of blood and treasure. She entered into treaty relations with the Arab countries, and even with the smaller tribes.

Along with very considerable business and economic interests, she acquired great prestige. The British "resident officer"—though he might have no more than the rank of a major—was a man of singular importance. The Arab ruler hardly made a move without consulting him.

It was natural and logical, therefore, for the Arabs to look to Britain for assistance, political and otherwise, in the battle over Palestine.

Britain was opposed to partitioning the country. How she would have solved the problem, had hers been the deciding voice at Lake Success, is a question. Whatever the answer, the United States led the move.

LAST NOVEMBER partition became a fact. Immediately, blood began to flow. Something very much resembling a 180-degree turn in the

First to Get Job

A NATIVE of Rossville, Cal., Ensign Yoshiko Tanigawa is the first and only nurse of Japanese ancestry to be commissioned as a member of the U. S. Navy Nurse Corps. She is shown here at work in the Naval Hospital at Long Beach, Cal. Official Navy photo. (International)

American attitude then appeared. A Jewish state was proclaimed. Six minutes later, we recognized it, formally, as a state.

There is no turning back from that now. It was quite possible to abandon the partition plan. But since we took this formal diplomatic step of recognizing Israel, Israel exists. It cannot be abandoned.

Britain ultimately must recognize the new state, too. When she does, her position vis-a-vis the Arab world may become practically impossible. The Arabs certainly will turn elsewhere, to some other major power, for help.

You will not need three guesses, or even two, to name that power.

That's the basis for British irritation with the United States. Americans, in turn, are beginning to feel excessively annoyed over British economic operations. As Marshall plan money goes across the sea, that annoyance may develop into real friction.

For one thing, there is the "sterling bloc." How will British and American administrators decide between an "earned" dollar and a "free" dollar? The British are going to acquire dollars both by the sale of exported products, and through Marshall plan loans. Americans will demand some degree of supervision in the use of the latter.

CRITICISM ALREADY exists, in Washington, over the matter trade between Western Europe and those countries within the Russian orbit.

Britain recently sold Russia steel railway tracks in exchange for cereals for cattle fodder. Britain needs timber, and she can get it more cheaply from Poland and Russia than anywhere else.

The American position is that nothing should go to Russia, or her satellites that is potentially war material, or useful to the Soviet war machine. Steel rails make railroads, and railroads move troops and tanks.

So the question of east-west trade bristles with spikes. American administrators certainly will object, and strenuously, to product, or by-products shipped under the Marshall plan being sold or traded to the Iron Curtain countries.

But Britain almost certainly will have to make these transactions, because she needs the commodities of Eastern Europe.

This is what confronts the new ambassador today, as he assumes his tasks in Washington. He has his work cut out for him.

Know Your Golf Shots Better

3rd of a Series
BY HERMAN BARRON

Written for AP Newsfeatures
THE long iron or No. 2 iron shot is best played on the square stance with the ball moved back so that it lies a little to the left of the center of your body.

You still take a full hip and shoulder turn on the backswing and follow through just as though you were driving. Concentrate on a slow, smooth backswing. This applies to every shot.

Above all, keep your head down until your swing is fully completed. Grip the club the same way you grip the driver and No. 4 wood. I use the same grip for every shot.

Again your feet should be spread no more than the width of your shoulders.

As the irons get shorter move closer to the ball.

TOMORROW—No. 5 Iron.

The Cat Brecheen turned in three shutouts winning his first four, had 32 consecutive scoreless innings, narrowly missed loop's first perfect game in 68 years.

MITCHELL AIR BASE, Hempstead, N. Y., was second.

Brookline, Mass.—Gil Dodds won New England AAU three-mile championship in 14:37.1, or 7.6 seconds faster than his own meet record.

Dayton—Harrison Dillard of Baldwin Wallace won the state AAU 220-yard high hurdles in 22.3 seconds, tying his own unofficial world record. Meet officials said the mark probably would not be recognized since Dillard had a 16-mile wind at his back.

Dillard, who shares the accepted world mark of 22.5 seconds, also won the 120-yard high hurdles here Saturday to bring his consecutive victory string to 75. His time in the high was 13.9, tying the NCAA record.

Gene Cole, Lancaster High school flash, won both the 220-yard dash and the 440-yard run. He won the 440 in 21.5 and the quartermile in 4.2.

Team honors went to Ohio State's Big Nine champions, who rolled up 75 1/2 points. Baldwin Wallace's Ohio conference titlists were second with 65 1/3 points, 134.

Driftmeyer Owes Training To Mom

(By Associated Press)

FREMONT, June 16.—One regret that Rookie Pitcher Jim Driftmeyer will have when he reports for duty at a Cleveland Indians farm club is that he won't be able to take along his warmup practice catcher—who happens to be his mother.

Jim, newly signed by the American league leaders for duty with Batavia, N. Y., in the Pony circuit, can truthfully say that he owes most of his baseball success to his mother, hardy, 65-year-old Mrs. J. B. Driftmeyer.

Mrs. Driftmeyer's interest in her son's baseball career began 10 years ago when his father was hit on the arm by one of Jim's speedballs.

With the elder Driftmeyer sidelined by the arm injury, Jim's mother immediately donned the catcher's mitt and has been serving as her son's farmup receiver ever since. Jim's father wanted no part of his son's fireball pitching—and turned over the job to Mrs. Driftmeyer.

Jim, a four-sport star at nearby Gibsonburg High school, was signed by the Indians after a workout with the Cleveland club. It was a high spot for the 19-year-old professional rookie.

But he contends that the high point in his baseball career came when he presented a gift to his warmup practice Mother this year—a no-hit semi-pro victory over Fremont on Mother's day.

LEETONIA EDGES MERCHANTS 13-12

Elite Squad Comes Through With First Win Of Season; Schaeffer Hurls 4-Hit Win

Salem's Amvets, leading Class A with a perfect record, chalked up their 10th straight victory Tuesday evening at West End park by an 8-5 margin over the Democrats as the Salem Diner assumed undisputed second place with a 10-4 win over the VFW and the Elite, victory started this year, crashed through with a 7-6 edge over the hapless Frost Motor outfit.

The Amvet victory, as usual, came easily with a big second inning producing six runs to clinch the contest. Jimmy Appedison, league leading hitter, continued to burn up the base paths with two hits in three trips, one a blooper homer. Paul Stratton, another Amvet slugger, got two for three along with always dangerous Dave Kachner.

The Diner, blessed with four-hit hurling by reliable "Mutt" Schaeffer, stomped out to earn three runs in the fourth, two in the fifth and five in the big seventh. Jim Aldom's combination was never in doubt.

Heavy sluggers included Johnny Hart with three for three and Schaeffer, who cracked out two for a trio of tries.

The Elite-Frost affair, a stern battle for cellar positions, featured some thrills. The game was clinched in the final only after the Elite had added the one needed run. The Frost rally was stopped short and the zero in the Bingleville win column changed to a big beautiful 1.

TRIBE HOPES TO AID HURLING IN BUYING ZOLDAK

New Pitcher Secured In Last-Minute Deal With St. Louis Browns

(By Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, June 16.—With their two pitching aces trumped the last two times out, the league-leading Cleveland Indians today believed they had added hurling help in the addition of a Southpaw Sam Zoldak, former St. Louis Brownie.

Bob Lemon suffered his fourth loss to the Boston Red Sox last night on the heels of Bob Feller's sixth setback at the hands of the New York Yankees—but the Indians completed a deal before the midnight trading deadline last night designed to strengthen their pitching staff.

Zoldak, one of the sought-after "bargain basement" sale last winter, was obtained by Tribe President, Bill Veeck in exchange for Rookie Left-Hander Bill Kennedy, another Cleveland player to be named later and a "large amount of cash."

The 25-year-old Zoldak won nine and lost 10 last year, an "out-standing record with the cellar-dwelling Browns, and had an earned-run average of 3.47. Kennedy was the Indians' No. 1 draft choice this winter, but showed promise only in a winning start against the Chicago White Sox.

The Indians, clubbed 7-3 in the opener of a long home stand by Boston before 51,380 stadium fans, held their three-game margin over the Philadelphia Athletics, who were defeated by Detroit. The third-place Yankees, five games behind the Tribe, also failed to gain when they were edged by the White Sox in an 11-inning tilt.

Lemon permitted only one single until the sixth inning of last night's tilt, but errors by Manager Lou Boudreau and Joe Tipton gave Boston a 1-0 lead without any hits in the fifth.

The Sox drove Lemon to the showers in the seventh with three runs on three hits, charging him with his fourth setback against nine wins, the top victory total in the major leagues.

Feller was named to oppose Joe Dobson today in the second tilt of the three-game series as the Indians attempt to regain the victory trail after two straight losses.
